

ABSTRACT

A method for monitoring the progress of fat loss in a patient during a weight loss program which comprises, contacting a body fluid sample from said patient with a solid test strip to provide a color indication of the presence in said body fluid of  $\beta$ -hydroxybutyrate, optionally together with acetoacetate and/or acetone.

1067560,020402